EXPERIENCE

Chief Marketing Officer at Quus
Aug 2021 - Present

Use blockchain to decentralize the small business ecosystem and implement Non-Fungible Token to protect the book copyrights.
Led design strategy of Titanbooks. io marketplace. Conducted user research and created personas, user flows, information architecture, wireframes, and mockups.

UX Researcher at Athena

Improve supply chain transparency, traceability, and verification of ethical sourcing practices with blockchain technology.
Researched the certification standards and critically evaluated whether they cover the firm's pillars: social, environmental, and ethical. Developed the compliance scoring system, designed the dashboard interface, and collaborated with engineers in India for design feedback and product development.

HCI Researcher at UCSD
May 2019 - Aug 2019

Examined automated approaches to classifying data-centered talk and offered insights into how commenters convey their reasoning about data. Used text classification techniques and natural language processing to identify features related to the comments that contain data-centered talk, such as cosine similarity, hyperlinks, and comparison terms. Collaborated and coordinated with faculty and graduate students to publish the study.
